Notice: Seeking inputs for revision of B.A. English syllabus under UGCF—Change in e-mail ID for sending inputs

With reference to the Department notice dated 14th April, 2022, seeking inputs for revision of B.A. English syllabus under UGCF, this is to bring to your kind attention that due to some technical error in the email id provided by the Department of English, University of Delhi for the above purpose, if any emails had been sent by you containing your inputs, the same might not have been received by us. In order to ensure that all inputs are received, the Department has created another dedicated email id for this purpose. Please send your inputs, even if already sent, to syllabusrevision@english.du.ac.in These inputs may include overall/semester-wise/paper-wise comments on the present syllabus, reorganization/introduction of papers in specific semesters keeping in view the UGCF, and introduction of Skill Enhancement Courses/Value Addition Courses to be taught by the English Departments of various colleges. Other relevant inputs such as reduction/substitution of texts in specific papers along with justification may be sent. While sending the email, the name, institutional affiliation, email id and phone number of the person should also be mentioned in the email for further communication.

Due to the technical glitch, the last date for receiving inputs has been extended till Wednesday, 13th April, 2022.
